FANTASY GROUNDS VIRTUAL TABLETOP COMMUNITY RAISES MONEY FOR SAVE THE CHILDREN CHARITY

Merritt Island, Florida, 11/21/2016 - A leader in the online tabletop gaming industry, Fantasy Grounds helped raise over $7,000 for the Save the Children Fund charity in the last year. The virtual tabletop gaming company raised the money with the help of their generous community who opted to donate $1 on 1,861 orders, which was then matched by Fantasy Grounds and then matched again by Save the Children Fund, bringing the total raised to $7,444.

“We wanted to make sure these donations were going to a great charity and Save the Children Fund spends 89% of donations on program services according to Charity Watch”, said Doug Davison, President of Smiteworks, the company that owns Fantasy Grounds. “We’re really proud of our community of role-playing gamers and are happy to support a great charity that helps children across the United States and across the world”, continued Davison. “Help goes to communities during natural disasters, to provide early education in the U.S. and abroad and for Syrian refugees and other children suffering globally.”

ABOUT

Fantasy Grounds is an application acting as a virtual online gaming table primarily intended for pen and paper style narrative role playing games and has licenses for many games including Dungeons & Dragons, Savage Worlds, and Call of Cthulhu. Fantasy Grounds is designed to perform many of the things you can do while playing at a conventional gaming table, but now online. The application provides all the necessary tools to communicate, manage information and perform tasks such as rolling the dice or moving tokens around a battle map. It also aids play at the table.
